THE OLD KIMBALL RESIDENCE.

In the passing of the old Kimball residence at the corner of Fourth South and Main streets, a picture of which is given above, another of the old landmarks of Salt Lake City goes into history and becomes a memory only. For over half a century the building has stood as a link between the merchants of today and the most prominent pioneers in merchandising in the Salt Lake valley. It was built by John B. Kimball, who in 1859, kept the best store in Salt Lake City, on the McCord corner, under the firm name of Kimball & Lawrence.

Henry W. Lawrence being the partner of the firm. Mr. Kimball built the above home for his father and mother, who were members of the Mormon church and came to the valley in 1849. At that time they lived in the Ninth ward, but on the completion of the new home at Fourth South and Main they moved there. At that time it was a story and a half, but about the year 1885 it was enlarged, John B. Kimball having bought it from his mother before she died. He lived there until his death in 1892, when it was used as a home by

CENTRAL REGISTER FOR TRAINED NURSES

Mrs. Empey Throws Some Light on The Controversy Regarding Nursing Profession Here.

Regarding the dispute as to the necessity of two registers for women of the nursing profession, one of which has been kept by the nurses' association since the beginning of the year and the other by Mrs. N. A. Empey for a number of years past, Mrs. Empey says an error has been made in the statement that she receives $2 from each nurse for a case. This is not true, the price being only $1. For which a great deal of trouble is sometimes entailed before a nurse can be secured. Mrs. Empey has now over 100 nurses on her register, 30 per cent of whom are graduates of local and eastern hospitals.

The movement to have a central register and eliminate the drug stores which were found to be unsatisfactory in many ways, was started last year by Mrs. Empey, at which time she consulted a number of members of the medical profession in Salt Lake City, all of whom gave their hearty sanction to her proposal. Later, in November last year, she issued the following circular, which is self-explanatory:

Dear Sir: At a recent meeting of the Medical association the question of a central register for nurses was discussed. In the event of any doctor's possible absence, Mrs. Empey wishes to recapitulate briefly the arguments presented at this and subsequent meetings. The suggestion of a central register met with the cordial endorsement of the majority. The drug store registers, though made necessary by the absence of a better method, were felt to be distinctly inadequate. From them a nurse is frequently sent out upon her own representation of her abilities, and without due examination of her credentials the result being a general dissatisfaction.

Then, what doctor has not wasted many precious hours in calling upon nurse after nurse from the drug store list, probably to find later that the nurse he would most have preferred was all the time waiting for a case but had forgotten to report herself "in" at that particular drug store. This unsatisfactory state of affairs would be entirely overcome by the institution of a properly conducted central register. The nurse having only one place to call up at the expiration of her case would certainly not forget that one, therefore her whereabouts could immediately be ascertained in the event of a doctor's mentioning his desire for services. Mrs. Empey wishes at this point to remark that her work is simplified by the doctor choosing his nurse, for should the nurse in question be engaged it is easier to supply a substitute whose abilities are equal to those of his original choice.

A nurse would be graded according to the references she could present and not upon her unsupported statement of her abilities. The time occupied by the doctor in securing a nurse would be reduced to a minimum, the greater labor entailed being assumed by the registrar.

Along these lines, Mrs. Empey has for some time conducted a register for nurses, her work beginning nine years ago as superintendent for the Relief society nurses, who have supplied a long-felt want in giving to the poor help, which though of course not equal to that of the hospital nurse, was infinitely better than the unskilled assistance which until then had alone been procurable by those of limited means.

From the first Relief society class and succeeding classes there has evolved a corps of nurses of varying efficiency according to their experience and aptitude, whose charges are in ratio to their capabilities, thus supplying the needs of all classes from those whose want of means compel them to accept charity, to those who though in moderate circumstances cannot quite afford a hospital nurse.

For graduate nurses there was naturally also a demand, in response to which Mrs. Empey accepted their registration, there being no conflict possible between them and the lower grades of nurses.

Mrs. Empey desires to perfect this system of central registration, but its success depends largely upon the cooperation of the medical fraternity. If the doctor forgets to call upon her for nurses, and from force of habit continues the haphazard plan which has prevailed heretofore, it is obvious that the central system will never be perfected and that the doctors who by the saving of their time would be the chief beneficiaries of the new plan, will remain unbenefited.

She therefore takes this opportunity of acquainting those doctors who may not have known of her work, with its general purpose, and invites all who require nurses of whatever grade, to call on her at any hour of the day or night when she will endeavor to continue the satisfaction she has given in the past.

TELLS OF CADET TRIP

Yesterday afternoon Prof. Eaton of the Salt Lake High school delivered an address to 55 teachers, on the aims and methods of the present school year. He outlined the duties of the teachers and gave them some valuable advice.

During the meeting, Capt. W. C. Webb gave a report of the trip of the cadets to Seattle. The report was really a most entertaining lecture, as he exhibited many pictures taken of maneuvers. He spoke of the splendid discipline observed by the boys and of the many cordial receptions they received.

GOVERNOR BRADY AND THE DRINK EVIL

His Letter to Dr. Howard of Pocatello
Removes Doubts as to His Position.

(Special to the "News.")
Boise, Idaho, Sept. 7.—The publication of the following letter in the daily papers of Boise by Gov. Brady has removed any doubts that may have existed regarding the genuineness of the governor's earnestness against the saloon. The letter was written to Dr. Howard of Pocatello in relation to a report that as was using a "den" in his saloon as a storeroom for intoxicants. The letter is as follows:

Dr. Mignie Howard, Pocatello, Idaho. Dear Dr. Howard:—On my return from an absence from the city I find your valued favor of Aug. 31 on my desk, and it was a great source of gratification to me to receive the same. I especially appreciate your kindly reference to my address at the Elway theater on the saloon question. I have always thought it best to be open and frank with my friends in the abolishment of every saloon in our state, and I felt it was my simple duty to my state, to the people, and to myself, to let the public know exactly where I stood on this important question. You need have no fears whatever but what my course will always be consistent and for the "right."

The saloon men here in Boise have circulated a report that I could afford to be in favor of local option because I have a "den" in my cellar in which I keep all kinds of intoxicating liquors. I wish to say to you that this statement is absolutely and unqualifiedly false.

I have not indulged in the use of intoxicating liquors since I have been in chief executive of this state, and not one single drop of intoxicating liquor in any form of character has even crossed the threshold of my home, nor has any person ever seen or tasted anything intoxicating in the executive residence. I have entertained since Jan. 1 in my home at receptions, dinners and other public functions over 2,500 people, and I dare any man or woman to say aught, except the very statement that I have made to you above. I feel that I should say this to you for the reason that the saloon men at Pocatello are liable to spring something of the same sort and I believe that the people have confidence enough in me to believe what I say when I make you my honor, as a man, is absolutely true.

You are doing splendid work there and there is only one thing that will defeat you, and that is a lack of interest in the voters and every movement that the polls are closed should be spent in quiet and effective organization in order to get the people out to the polls. There is no question in the world what the decision of the people will be if they take interest enough in the matter to go up and express themselves by the ballot.

UNCLE SAM WANTS EDITORS.

He Will Hold an Examination to Secure One Sept. 22.

Uncle Sam finds it hard to get editors for the bureau of education, department of the interior, although the salary is placed at $2,000 per annum. The recent examination failed to secure the man needed and the government announces another examination to take place Sept. 22. The duties of the position will be performed chiefly at Washington, and the appointee must have a broad general education, and a wide knowledge of educational literature.

Those taking the above examination are required to have lived a year in the state or territory where they take the examination. A horticulturist is also needed for the Philippine service, the salary being $3,500 a year. The examination for this position will occur Sept. 23. Those desiring to take the examinations should write to Orville Williams, Salt Lake postoffice.

Run Down?

Ask your doctor all about Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Entirely free from alcohol. A strong tonic that comes from a strong tonic. Ask your doctor all about this.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a tonic. It does not stimulate. It does not make you feel better one day, then as bad as ever the next. There is not a drop of alcohol in it. You have the steady, even gain of a tonic that comes from a strong tonic. Ask your doctor all about this.

Diamonds

First of all accept as a fact that you are going to get only your money's worth of anything where ever you go.

The article that at first "seems" cheap in price is invariably cheap in quality. The four dollar imitation mahogany chair shines with greater brilliancy and is usually given more fantastic lines than is a fine genuine mahogany chair costing one hundred dollars. So with diamonds, the "flash" is not its sole virtue although to some it may seem to be a bargain. A diamond must have fine color, proper shape, and perfection of texture and only stones having these characteristics are worth while.

A cheap diamond (in quality) is the insignia of the tawdry.

Buy a Leyson diamond, in quality the best; in price, fair.

KEITH O'BRIEN

Within a few weeks we shall hold before the gaze of womankind fashion's magic lens, through which will be revealed everything of interest in the realm of dress

It will be in the nature of an Opening.

It will reflect ultra modes of fascinating dress from the great style centers; Champs Elysees! Bois de Boulogne! Bond Street! Piccadilly! Unter den Linden! Fifth Avenue! Wabash Avenue!

The modish woman will be anxious to see these things, as will also the woman of refined taste, the common sense woman who knows how to dress neatly, the skilled needle woman who dresses becomingly—in deed, womankind in every walk of life will delight in viewing the gorgeous display.

There will be interesting things for the mothers of school children.

Linens to tempt the house keeper.

Furnishings for the home.

An opening replete with suggestions, that women may advantageously plan their purchases.

Of course the leading features will be Millinery and Suits and Coats.

On a whole it will be a delightful treat which will serve to facilitate Fall shopping, for the Opening will team with correct and definite hat and dress information, style information, store information and economic information.

Try it yourself—

"There's a Reason.

Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

FOUND A WAY

To be Clear of the Coffee Troubles.

"Husband and myself both had the coffee habit and finally his stomach and kidneys got in such a bad condition that he was compelled to give up a good position that he had held for years. He was too sick to work. His skin was yellow, and I hardly think there was an organ in his body that was not affected."

"I told him I felt sure his sickness was due to coffee and after some discussion he decided to give it up."

"It was a struggle, because of the powerful habit. One day we heard about Postum and concluded to try it and then it was easy to leave off coffee."

"His fearful headaches grew less frequent, his complexion began to clear, kidneys grew better until at last he was a new man altogether, as a result of leaving off coffee and taking up Postum. Then I began to drink it too."

"Although I was never as bad off as my husband, I was always very nervous and never at any time very strong, only weighing 95 pounds, before I began to use Postum. Now I weigh 115 pounds and can do as much work as anyone my size I think."

"Many do not use Postum because they have not taken the trouble to make it right. I have successfully found a great many persons who have drunk it at my table. They would remark, 'You must buy a high grade of coffee.' One young man who clerked in a grocery store was very enthusiastic about my 'coffee.' When I told him what it was, he said, 'why I've sold Postum for four years but I had no idea it was like this. Think I'll drink Postum hereafter.'"

BAGGAGE MEN MEETING HERE

All the Latest Ways of Handling
Big Railroad Problem Being Discussed.

REGULAR QUARTERLY SESSION

Four Times a Year These Jolly Jugglers of Junketers' Luggage Get Together to Talk it Over.

To discuss the last word in the name of receiving, handling, labeling and disposing of trunks, suitcases, valises, grips, boxes, rolls and bundles with the utmost facility and dispatch, the western association of general baggage agents, comprising the chief "baggage men" of the railroads west of the Missouri river is holding its quarterly session in this city today. G. H. Bower, general baggage agent of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad, chairman of the association, is presiding, and the business of the meeting is being recorded by J. DeWitt, general baggage agent of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, as secretary. The railroads are held quarterly and during the sessions everything pertaining to the mighty question of baggage is thoroughly discussed, and as time goes on better methods are evolved and adopted, while obsolete practices are cast away with, bringing the handling of baggage down to the science that it is today.

The meeting is being held in the general meeting room in the new union station of the Oregon Short Line and Salt Lake route. The session will continue this afternoon.

Shortly before 12 o'clock this morning the meeting adjourned to enable the members present to attend the regular social at the tabernacle. While in Salt Lake the visiting baggage agents are being shown about and entertained by George L. Alley, general baggage agent of the Oregon Short Line.

The members of the association present, together with the roads they represent, are as follows: G. H. Bower, Missouri, Kansas & Texas; Parsons, Chicago, Ill.; H. G. Graves, Chicago & Northwestern, Chicago, Ill.; E. R. Reynolds, Chicago Great Western, Chicago, Ill.; Geo. F. Lee, Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, Chicago, Ill.; A. H. Lee, Denver & Rio Grande, Denver, Colo.; J. A. Osborn, Illinois Central, Chicago, Ill.; Benton Quick, Missouri Pacific, St. Louis, Mo.; C. L. Alley, Oregon Short Line, Salt Lake City, Utah; W. M. Dyer, St. Louis & San Francisco, Springfield, Mo.; F. H. Jones, St. Louis Southern, Texarkana, Tex.; T. C. Huston, San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake, Los Angeles; Fred Reno, Burlington lines, west of Missouri river, Lincoln Neb.; and L. D. Carrier, Union Pacific, Council Bluffs, Ia.

OFF FOR DIXIE FAIR.

Excursion Leaves Tomorrow Night For Fruit Festival.

The "Dixie" fair excursion to St. George, Utah, leaves at 11:30 o'clock tonight over the Salt Lake route. Two cars have been assigned and it is possible that about 60 persons will go from Salt Lake. Gov. Spry has made arrangements to go on the excursion and several other officials will attend the fair. It is being given by the St. George Commercial club, on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 9 and 10. When the excursionists reach Modena, the last station in Utah, they will take the stage to St. George.

TO ISSUE OFFICIAL CALL.

Republican City Committee Preparing For Convention on City Ticket.

The official call of the Republican city committee for a convention to nominate a Republican ticket to be placed in the field this fall has been issued. The convention will be held in the Salt Lake city hall on Wednesday, Sept. 23. Primaries to select delegates to the convention will be held in the various wards on Sunday evening, Sept. 27, and the precinct convention will be held Tuesday evening, Sept. 28.

There will be a total of 614 delegates in the convention, allowing one delegate for every 25 voters. For convenience of the delegates, the city is divided into 12 wards, as follows: First, 100; second, 125; third, 125; fourth, 125; fifth, 125; sixth, 125; seventh, 125; eighth, 125; ninth, 125; tenth, 125; eleventh, 125; twelfth, 125.

At the meeting of the city committee held Saturday at which the arrangements for the primaries and convention were made, the following committees were elected: Committee on Finance and Management, James Levine, Parley Jensen and Axel Stead; committee on nominations, J. J. Greenwald, Harry Anderson and J. J. Greenwald; committee on procedure, Joseph Smith, J. J. Greenwald, and Axel Stead; committee on resolutions, James Levine and Axel Stead; committee on credentials, J. J. Greenwald and Axel Stead.

IMPEACHMENT PROCEEDINGS.
Alexander E. Lee of Murray Seeks to Oust Justice Banks.

Alexander E. Lee of Murray has filed impeachment proceedings in the Third district court against O. H. Banks, justice of the peace of Murray, in an effort to remove him from office. Banks has refused to resign and Justice Lee has refused to punish O. H. Banks for his alleged misbehavior and has encouraged lawlessness.

Justice Lee has been before the court five times in the same offense and Justice Lee has only assessed him 20 cents each time for violating the ordinance. As a result, Lee says that the ordinance is a joke and has been brought into disrepute. He says that Banks has been cited to appear before the Third district court and be deprived of his office.
